Description:

The evidence provided may include maps showing the campus location, total area, boundary size, and the distribution of buildings, open spaces, pedestrian pathways, internal roads, landscaped areas, and other facilities relevant to the indicator.

Andijan State Institute of Foreign Languages (ASIFL) is located in an urban area of Andijan city, Uzbekistan. The total campus area is approximately 3.00 km², which is equal to 3 000 000 m². Based on the available campus-building and facility data, the estimated open space area is 2 941 264.79 m².

Therefore, the ratio of open space area to the total campus area is calculated as follows: $(2\,941\,264.79\text{ m}^2 / 3\,000\,000\text{ m}^2) \times 100 = 98.04\%$, rounded to 98%. The open space includes landscaped green zones, courtyards, internal roadways, pedestrian paths, tree-covered areas, the affiliated garden, and the Summer Camp open area.

Ratio of open space towards total area: 98.04% (approximately 98%)
